Nuclear Bomb Use Is Seen In Any Crisis

LeMay Says U.S.
Prepared To Use
Available Weapons

By DAVID BURNHAM

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., Chairman of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee, Sunday raised the possibility that nuclear bombs would be dropped if the Berlin crisis explodes into a shooting war.

At the same time, Gen Curtis Lemay, Air Force Chief of Staff, said it was possible the United States might use atomic weapons in a limited war. He advocated using whatever strength was necessary to handle any given situation.

Holifield, appearing on a television program (Youth Wants To Know — CBS) was asked whether he thought any war over Berlin would be confined to conventional weapons. He replied: "It would be very difficult in any future war to withhold using the most effective weapons which each side has."

Appearing on another program (All America Wants To Know — CBS) Lemay emphasized that the President alone decides whether this country should use atomic weapons.

But the general said he felt the military services should operate like police forces. A policeman does not shoot every lawbreaker, he said, but does use his revolver when the occasion demands, "otherwise he's endangering the lives of the citizens by not doing so."

On a related subject, Lemay said he believed the United States could operate another airlift in Berlin in the event of a blockade despite electronic counter-measures that could be used by the Communists.

Holifield warned in his broadcast that the United States is totally unprepared for a civil defense standpoint to meet the hazards of a nuclear war.

Without a federal system of underground shelters, he said, "we stand naked and helpless in the face of any kind of a nuclear attack."

Holifield said scientists and Defense Department officials have told his House-Senate Committee that as things stand now, a nuclear attack would mean 50 to 70 million U. S. casualties.

With underground shelters, he said, this could be reduced to about five million.

UAR Promises Total Support For Tunisians

TUNIS, Tunisia (UPI) — Tunisia announced Sunday that the United Arab Republic has agreed to give it "total aid" in its struggle with France over Bizerte and that "military aid is already being sent in" from Cairo.

The announcement was made by Foreign Minister Sadok on his return here Sunday from Cairo talks with U. A. R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

It came as the French stepped up an exodus of their civilians from the Bizerte base.

The liner President de Gaulle left Bizerte with 1,300 civilians returning to France. It was the largest single repatriation since the battle of Bizerte broke out between French and Tunisian troops July 19.

Two other French civilian contingents, one numbering 500 and the other 400, had left earlier.

Foreign Minister Mokadem joined other Tunisian officials in predicting that Tunisia would draw closer to the U. A. R. as a result of the Bizerte crisis.

Last Rose Presented

Nat Schick, right, is shown at Big Spring, Texas, as he placed the last rose on the pulpit on the First Baptist Church in Big Spring, as Dr. P. D. O'Brien looks on. Yesterday was the last of 994 roses Dr. O'Brien has received on as many Sundays. This marks the end of the custom, as Dr. O'Brien's work at the church is ended. Mr. Schick was revealed as the "unknown friend" in last Sunday's service. (AP Photofax.)

Tornado Hits Lancaster Co.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — A tornado or series of twisters swept through a section of Lancaster County Saturday causing damage said to be greater than that inflicted by Hurricane Hazel.

Crops in this rich farm belt were flattened. Homes, barns and power lines gave way before the high winds. A number of injuries were reported, none critical.

It appeared damage, when finally calculated, would run at least into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

A spokesman for Pennsylvania Power and Light, whose facilities were crippled by the 1954 hurricane, said the damage Saturday was worse.

The storm was one of several hitting Eastern Pennsylvania. Reading had minor flooding under three inches of rain and Philadelphia had similar trouble with only half the rain.

Employment Shows Gains In Major Labor Markets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg announced Sunday that a new national survey of employment shows improvement in 90 per cent of 150 major labor market areas.

Goldberg disclosed results of the June employment survey in a television interview with Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., (WOR-TV, New York). Details of the new study will be made public Monday.

Goldberg also: —Called for passage of the administration's school aid, youth employment and worker retraining bills to help deal with hard-core unemployment that has persisted despite general business recovery.

—Announced that he will call a group of labor experts to Washington Aug. 4 to help draft proposals to amend the Taft-Hartley Law.

—Said the administration is preparing requests for Congress next year to extend coverage of the new minimum wage law passed earlier this year.

—Described the last six months as "the greatest period of labor peace, since world war II" and appealed to both sides in the maritime industry dispute to try to settle their differences before a current Taft-Hartley cooling-off injunction expires.

Goldberg said the new labor market survey was a sign that the administration's recovery program was meeting with some success. But he added that the long-term unemployment problem was still serious.

Police Believe Cuban Prisoner Envoy Kidnaped

MIAMI (UPI) — One of the two Cuban prisoner envoys who had decided to stay in the United States disappeared from his hotel room Sunday afternoon and Miami police said he may have been kidnaped.

Police radioed all cars, the border patrol and the FBI to be on the lookout for Reinaldo Pico, who left his room at the Alcazar Hotel in Miami about 5:10 p.m., accompanied by two men.

"He wasn't dragged or hauled or anything," said a police officer. "We are looking for him, you might say, to explain to our satisfaction his unscheduled disappearance from his hotel room."

But a long road is still ahead and many obstacles lie in the way of the history-making project.

Oppose British Move

The projected British move is opposed by many influential quarters.

Commonwealth nations fear they will lose their preferential treatment for imports into Britain. Agriculture wants to keep European competition out. Trade unions do not cherish the possible influx of foreign labor, and opposing politicians stand against British involvement in Europe on principle.

Against this array of arguments stand these major considerations favoring British participation in the common market:

—The market presents a trade bloc of 170 million people from which Britain does not want to be excluded.

—Too close a political alignment among its member nations—with Britain staying out — could leave Britain isolated on the fringe of Europe.

Request Modifications

—The United States has been urging Britain to join. Macmillan, weighing the pro's and con's, was said to have decided in favor of "taking the plunge", though with safeguards.

The anticipated course of action was that Britain would apply for membership in the common market but ask for modifications because of her links with the Commonwealth nations. Negotiations for membership would start shortly.

The common market nations include France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Reds Denounce Mickey Mouse

BERLIN (UPI) — The Communists have denounced Mickey Mouse as an American agent helping the West persuade East Germans to flee from behind the Iron Curtain.

Children at a forum organized by the Communist Party in the city of Halle were told a fairy tale about "the head-hunters and Mickey Mouse."

The moral of the tale—do not read Mickey Mouse books or join the Mickey Mouse clubs with headquarters in West Germany.

A straight-faced report on the children's forum was carried by the Halle newspaper "Freiheit" (Freedom).

"How can a child be so dumb as to be taken in by Mickey Mouse?" The children were asked by a man identified only as "Comrade Heyde."

"These books have the purpose of getting the addresses of your parents," Heyde told the children, aged 10 to 14.

"You cut a coupon out of the book, send it along with your address and you become a member of the Mickey Mouse Club."

"They then have an important address to give the head hunters."

Tito Welcomes Chester Bowles

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito Sunday received Chester Bowles, U.S. undersecretary of state, at Brioni, his Adriatic summer resort.

Bowles arrived in Belgrade Saturday night from Africa. He was accompanied to Brioni by George Kennan, U.S. ambassador to Belgrade.

Military Men Plan Airlift Into Berlin

Allied Planners
Set Stage For Any Emergency

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — Allied military planners were reported Sunday to be seriously considering setting up an emergency airlift to Berlin if the Communists should blockage the isolated city.

The western planners were said to prefer the air lift to any attempted breakthrough toward Berlin by land.

Western military experts are now drawing up various alternative emergency plans to meet any Berlin crisis and all will be examined by U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville at their conference starting in Paris this Saturday.

The crisis plans will then be reviewed with members of the 15-nation NATO alliance at a NATO council meeting Aug. 8.

Strong support was said to be rallying behind the idea of an airlift, should emergency measures be made necessary by allied traffic into West Berlin.

It was a massive airlift that permitted the Western allies to break the 1948-49 blockade of Berlin.

On the negative side, informed sources said, are the present lack of adequate landing facilities for big jet planes in West Berlin and limitations on the quantity of supplies that can be supplied by air for the needs of more than 2 million Berliners.

Nevertheless, these sources say, important political considerations favor this course in preference to an attempted military breakthrough on the ground. There is this important political consideration in such situations: If shots are fired, who fired the first one?

Advocates of the airlift argue that in an attempt to force Western supplies through on the roads to Berlin the West might be maneuvered into a position where it has to fire, touching off an explosive situation.

But in an airlift, they point out, unarmed Western planes would be flying supplies to Berlin in the traditional air access corridors to the city. To stop them it would be the Communists — Russians or East Germans — who would have to fire the first shot.

Task Force To Attack Syphilis

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service announced Sunday the formation of a task force to map an attack on syphilis which has shown a threefold new case increase in four years.

Surgeon Gen. Luther L. Terry said the five-member task force will be headed by Dr. Leona Baumgartner, New York City commissioner of health. It will begin work within six weeks and its report will be the basis for the recommendations called for by the House Appropriations Committee which expressed concern over the swift resurgence of syphilis as a major health problem.

The committee expressed belief this venereal disease can and should be eliminated as a public health problem.

Health officials are particularly alarmed over the increase among teen-agers of the disease which can culminate in insanity or death. Since 1956, there has been an increase of 130 per cent in syphilis among persons under 20.

The PHS lists extreme population mobility and rapid urbanization among factors contributing to the increase in syphilis.

London Papers Support Kennedy

LONDON (AP) — Two of London's independent newspapers said Sunday President Kennedy's press indicated opposition to Communist policy was growing.

Despite tightened controls and threats, more than 3,000 East Germans fled to West Berlin over the weekend to raise the month's refugee total to about 30,500.

The mood in the East Zone was said by refugees to be approaching the danger point. But there were no predictions that East Germans would revolt again as they did on June 17, 1953.

Reliable reports from East Germany said the Communists had ordered intensified training of their "fighting groups," a militia formed of men believed by the Communists to be reliable.

Cardinal Tardini, 73 Dies At Vatican

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Domenico Cardinal Tardini, the Vatican Secretary of State, died early Sunday of a cardiac collapse at the age of 73.

The death of Tardini, who played a key role in Vatican foreign policy for 10 years, reduced the College of Cardinals to 83. There were grave fears that another member of the sacred college, Nicola Cardinal Canali, 87, would be taken by death soon. He was in serious condition, suffering from pleurisy.

Arrangements for the Cardinal's funeral, scheduled for Wednesday, were incomplete.

Cardinal Tardini, a gray-haired little man who wore steel-rimmed spectacles, was a long-time friend of Pope John XXIII, who raised him to the status of a Prince of the Church.

In 1953, Tardini turned down an earlier chance to become a Cardinal on grounds he was not worthy.

The Cardinal, who had been ailing for some time, was brought to the Vatican Saturday from the vacation spa of Chianciano Terme where he suffered a heart attack three days ago. He suffered another attack at dawn Sunday and died.

Pope John, at his Castelgandolfo summer home, was awakened at 4 A.M. and told his friend was in grave condition. The Pontiff said mass for Tardini, then rushed back to the Vatican, but the Cardinal died before he arrived.

"What a friend was this man," said the Pope. "How much he worked and how much this man did in his job."

Thousands of persons gathered in St. Peter's Square heard the Pontiff say: "Imagine how my heart feels this... although I confide this blessed spirit to the mercy of the Lord, I feel the need to communicate this reason for sadness to you and to invite you to join your prayers to mine..."

Red Germans Fear Uprising In East Zone

BERLIN (UPI)—The Communist East German government Sunday was reported to be training its militia to help quell disorders in event the current unrest turns into riots.

Throughout East Germany, workers fearful of war over Berlin were reported demanding free elections to reunify Germany.

The alarmed Communists organized forums and meetings to assure East Germans the Soviet plan to end Western allied rights in Berlin would not lead to war.

Their main argument was that the United States would not fight for Berlin any more than it fought for Cuba.

(Reports in London Sunday said Western allied military planners are seriously considering setting up an emergency airlift to Berlin if the Communists should blockage the isolated city.)

But reports in the Communist press indicated opposition to Communist policy was growing.

Despite tightened controls and threats, more than 3,000 East Germans fled to West Berlin over the weekend to raise the month's refugee total to about 30,500.

The mood in the East Zone was said by refugees to be approaching the danger point. But there were no predictions that East Germans would revolt again as they did on June 17, 1953.

Reliable reports from East Germany said the Communists had ordered intensified training of their "fighting groups," a militia formed of men believed by the Communists to be reliable.

The militia has a paper strength of 300,000 men, but 150,000 at the most are said to be equipped for action. Of these, many are believed to be secretly anti-Communist.

Tax Adjustment Powers May Be Given President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress will grant President Kennedy limited power to raise or lower income taxes within three years, an AFL-CIO spokesman predicted Sunday.

Stanley H. Ruttenberg, AFL-CIO research director, said temporary tax-setting authority should be granted to the chief executive to fight recessions and inflation.

He said he expected support from conservatives as well as liberals for the proposal, one of scores of recommendations made in a recent report by the commission on money and credit.

Ruttenberg was a member of the commission.

"I think it might be a year or two or three before the Congress gets around to enacting this kind of provisions," Ruttenberg said in an interview recorded for radio broadcast (Labor News Conference — Mutual).

Under the proposal, the President could raise or lower the tax on the first $2,000 of income by five percentage points.

Since the tax rate is now 20 per cent, it could be raised to 25 per cent to reduce spending in a period of inflation or cut to 15 per cent to encourage consumers to buy goods and help end a slump, Ruttenberg said.

Any such reduction or increase would be effective for a year at most and could be "vetoed" by either house of Congress, he added.

Russians Say Atomic Subs Join Fleet

West Observers
Term Exhibition
"Impressive"

By ROBERT J. KORENGOLD

LENINGRAD (UPI) — The Soviet Union Sunday unveiled its twin jet Navy bombers carrying air-to-ground missiles in a show Western experts termed "impressive." But the Russian Navy didn't demonstrate the atomic-powered, rocket-firing submarines it says it has.

A television announcer describing the show declared anew that Russia has such subs and added "we are creating the most terrible and most powerful weapons in the world."

The three-hour Navy Day display in the Neva River brought out about 30 warships, including rocket-equipped cruisers, destroyers and torpedo boats. Thousands of persons, including Western experts, watched the show from the river banks.

Participating in the show were roughly three times as many warships as had appeared in any previous Navy Day show or any other public demonstration. Another hitherto unnoted item was a midget submarine similar to those used by the Japanese in the Dec. 7, 1941, surprise attack on Pearl Harbor.

Also shown were jet flying boats revealed previously at the Moscow Air Show July 9. Of the 54 new twin-jet bombers that flew in the show, 36 were equipped with air-to-ground missiles.

Soviet newsmen told their foreign colleagues the show was to have been larger but some ships were withdrawn at the last minute. The twin-jet bombers carrying air-to-ground missiles had not been seen previously by Western eyes.

The show came at a time when East-West relations were tense over Berlin. In Moscow, Defense Minister Rodion I. Malinovsky issued a Navy Day statement saying "nothing can stop (the Communists') victorious progress."

His first deputy, Marshal Andrei Grechko, in a speech here said Western military alliances forced the Soviet Union to halt its demobilization and boost military spending.

Flash Flood Hits Eastern Kentucky Town

PAINTSVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — A flash flood caused by at least three inches of rainfall in 12 hours put 10 homes under water in this Eastern Kentucky town Sunday and forced evacuation of hundreds of residents.

No deaths or missing persons were immediately reported, but officials compared the flood to the one in Charleston, W. Va., recently that claimed many victims.

Authorities reported nearly all major roads from the city were under water and impassable, including major route Kentucky 460. The flash flood included all of Johnson County but was concentrated in Paintsville, where a section of the business district was under water.

More rain and water was expected to push the Levisa River even further over its banks. One concrete bridge was reported not even safe for foot traffic on the northern side of town.

Red Cross workers, a National Guard unit, Kentucky State Police and volunteer workers worked to evacuate residents threatened by the rapidly rising water.

Authorities asked the public to stay away from the area following a forecast for even more rain.

Civil War Cannons Selling Like Hot Cakes This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil War cannons and battle-trained horses sell like hot cakes these days, but the covered wagon market has gone to pot.

"There's really still a lot of use for a covered wagon," says Phil Vail Jr. hopefully.

Like what? Well, for instance, "it's a great thing for a hayride," says Vail, who is trying to peddle the 1860s model wagon left over from last week's re-enactment of the Civil War's Battle of First Manassas—or Bull Run as the Yankees called it.

Vintage cannons worth $35,000 were snapped up by the Manassas National Battlefield to be permanently exhibited at the park in the more than 50 horses used in the re-enactment have been selling fast at $150 to $500.

But no one has yet offered to part with the $250 being asked for the covered wagon, said Vail. He is managing the sales for the First Manassas Corp. which staged the elaborate three-day re-enactment of the Civil War's first major land battle.

Plans Tour

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Denis Mathews, manager of the East African Tourist Travel Association, says he plans a lecture tour in the United States next month to dispel what he called a false American impression "that Africa is a vast jungle where tourists have to rough it and frequently are abused."

OPTIMISTIC ON BERLIN—Secretary of State Dean Rusk is shown during a press conference at the State Department in Washington as he expressed belief that there was a possibility for a "peaceful adjustment" of the Berlin crisis. The Secretary emphasized a point made by President Kennedy—that while military preparations are defensive "our diplomatic posture need not be."

Maryland Briefs

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—Two Baltimore youths who were arrested here July 15 and charged with illegal possession of narcotics were convicted Saturday in Magistrate's Court.

Magistrate James B. Robins fined Ronald C. Wilson, 18, $350 for possessing barbituates without prescriptions. Convicted as an accessory and fined $250 was Ronald J. Umerlick, 19.

Police said they seized 158 capsules of assorted drugs after the arrest outside a pinball arcade here. The case triggered an investigation to determine if there are other drug law violators in the resort. That probe still is underway.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Roads Commission says it has invited bids for construction of a one-mile stretch of the Capital Beltway in Montgomery County. Deadline for submitting bids is Aug. 22.

The contract calls for grading, draining and surfacing the section between River Road and Severn Locks Road, and construction of three dual bridges, two single-lane bridges, two culverts and an interchange.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes is responsible for improving Maryland's highways and making them safer for driving, a Democratic Party leader claims.

Dr. Clarence D. Long, executive co-chairman of the Maryland Democratic State Central Committee, said "a substantial number of dangerous drivers" have been removed from Maryland roads by the new traffic violation point system which went into effect this year.

The Democratic spokesman claimed the previous Republican administration had neglected highway programs and traffic law enforcement.

FREDERICK (AP)—A 27-year-old Montgomery County man has been charged with murder in the shooting of his 43-year-old wife early Saturday.

State Police said Kenneth B. Johnson was charged after he admitted shooting his wife, Lucille Helen Johnson, in a Frederick County Tavern. The couple's home was in Damascus, Md. They had no children.

CATONSVILLE, Md. (AP)—Two Maryland men have been ordained as Seventh-day Adventist ministers.

Tor Dahlberg of Frederick and Howard Bankes of Waldorf were taken into the ministry at ordination services Saturday, the third day of the annual summer convention of the Chesapeake Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Also ordained were three men from Delaware.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for E. Paul Flaherty, treasurer of the A. S. Abell Co., publisher of the Sunpapers.

Flaherty died Saturday of cardiovascular disease after becoming ill in his office at the Sun. He was 72.

Maryland CAP Starts Training

FRIENDSHIP AIRPORT, Md. (AP)—Some 112 cadets and eight officers of the Maryland Wing of the Civil Air Patrol left here Sunday for two weeks of training at Charleston, S. C. Air Force Base.

The CAP men, from throughout the state, were sent to South Carolina aboard five Air Force transport planes. They will undergo direct training in Air Force methods.

Big Selling Job

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union landed $40 million worth of orders from its three-week trade fair that closed here Saturday. Fair director Boris Gorbachev called it "the most successful Soviet exhibition in a capitalist country."

Increase Exports

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Total Mexican exports for the first four months of 1960 were valued at $230.4 million, an increase of $44.2 million over the same 1960 period.

More Divorces

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Officials say Mexico's divorce rate has jumped 30 per cent since last year. More than 6,000 couples have been divorced in Mexico City since Jan. 1.

Bookmaker Finds Way To Avoid Federal Agents

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP)—John A. Nanni, an admitted bookmaker, has found a way to keep federal agents out of his hair—just conform with the law and buy a $50 gambling tax stamp.

"Sure, I paid the $50 for the stamp," says Nanni, "not only that, I report my earnings and pay the tax every month."

Nanni, according to Internal Revenue Service records, is one of two Marylanders who bought the special gambling stamp.

Under federal law, persons who accept wagers or bets are required to obtain the stamp and report their gross earnings for a 10 per cent tax assessment.

Police Probing Fatal Shooting

CENTREVILLE, Md. (AP)—State police were questioning a 20-year-old man Sunday in connection with the fatal shooting Saturday night of James Ollie Thomas Jr., 21, of Starr, Md.

The shooting reportedly happened at the home of a friend of the two youths in Starr. Starr is about 10 miles southeast of Centerville in Queen Annes County.

Police said Thomas was quarreling with James Oscar Little over the gun in the rear of the house when the gun went off. Little, who was not charged, said the gun fired accidentally.

Montgomery Speaks

ALDERSHOT, England (UPI)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery told military school cadets Sunday that the best boys aren't always those who win the prizes at school.

"I may tell you that I never won a single prize at school," Montgomery told 2,000 uniformed youngsters at a religious service.

"Those tax agents can't touch me now, and I got nothing to worry about," Nanni said, laughing as he described his operation.

"All of my customers are gentlemen," he said. "I don't charge them any tax. I pay it myself and I lose."

"You won't find me going after any big money and I don't bother people who need money or teenagers. No numbers, no raffles, no football I don't go for that. I'm just a small man."

Maryland law prohibits persons from accepting bets on horses away from the track. About this, Nanni comments:

"The police want to talk to me, so they know where to find me. I've lived here for 44 years and I don't hurt anybody."

"You can put my name in the paper. I'm not mad at anybody," Nanni said he refused to take large wagers because his business is run for small profits. Also, he said, "When you do that you get into tax problems."

"I'm 63 years old and money is not plentiful any more," he said.

Nanni said he depends on his honesty in running his business. "If a guy wants to play horse, why not? He bets a little money, and maybe he'll win some that he can have a good time on."

Plan Western Summit Meet In September

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — A Western summit meeting will be held after the September general elections in West Germany barring any worsening of the Communist threat to Berlin, diplomatic sources predicted Friday.

The sources noted that the Western leaders will have to make the final decisions on allied moves for negotiations or a showdown with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. They said the West is proceeding on the assumption that its plans must be ready not later than mid-October.

Therefore, they added, that while a summit meeting this fall is almost certain it will have to await the outcome of the elections in West Germany.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is running against Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin. Brandt, a Socialist, is as ardently anti-Communist as Adenauer and as firmly aligned with the West. The elections are scheduled for Sept. 17.

If Brandt is defeated, the sources said a meeting of President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle probably would take place in late September or early October.

If Adenauer is defeated, a slight delay was expected to enable the new government to chart its policy course.

U.S. Polio Cases At Record Low

ATLANTA (UPI) — Polio cases in the United States, down 65 per cent last week from the previous week, continued "at a record low level," the Communicable disease Center reported Friday.

The U.S. Public Health Service said 11 polio cases, six of them paralytic, were reported during the week ending July 22. Twenty-eight cases were recorded the previous week.

Four cases of poliomyelitis occurred in Texas last week, the center said, and two cases were reported in California. Single cases were recorded in Vermont, North Carolina, Arkansas, Idaho and New Mexico.

The center said the incidence of hepatitis during the week ending July 22 continued at the same rate as previous weeks this summer. A total of 1,100 cases were reported during the week.

Space Dangers Are Discounted

BALTIMORE (AP) — Four of the major hazards of space travel may not be as serious as had been suspected previously.

George S. Trimble Jr., vice president in charge of advanced studies for the Martin Co., said Friday it would be a mistake to build a space vehicle embodying protection against all the most extreme dangers.

The likelihood of a space ship meeting a solar flare or meteorite of destructive size is about the same as "the chance of an ocean liner meeting an ice berg in the South Atlantic," Trimble said.

The Martin Co. has made special studies of the hazards of solar flares, meteorites, the Van Allen radiation belt surrounding the earth, and weightlessness. Too much emphasis has been put on the dangers of all these, Trimble said.

Reforestation of cut-over timber land in the American Northwest is being accomplished by helicopter. To provide an even distribution of seed, the copter flies over an area twice, the second time at right angles to the first.

Jaycees Plan Area Meeting In Keyser

Four Chapters Are Slated To Attend

KEYSER—J. K. Lambert, past president of the West Virginia Kiwanis, has been secured as the principal speaker for the first regional meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, to be hosted by the local chapter, on Sunday, August 6, at the Moose Home.

Joseph House, president of the Keyser Jaycees, said that among those in attendance will be State President William Hegmann and state secretary Harold Elbin, of Elkins; Frederick Grew, president of the Wheeling Jaycees, and William H. Loy, Romney, Region 7 vice-president.

Delegations from the following chapters have also indicated they will be present: Hampshire County Chapter, Romney; Charles Town, Martinsburg and Keyser.

The event will be the first Region 7 meeting to be held in the new year and the first one ever hosted by the Keyser group. Forums will be conducted on "Implementing the Number One Program in the Local Chapter," "Leadership Development," "Orientation and Activation of New Members."

Mr. Lambert, who will give the principal address, will base his talk on "Regional Development and Cooperative Effort."

The meeting will get underway at 1:45 p. m. A banquet will follow the meeting.

Alvin C. Neat Post Schedules August Picnic

LONA CONING — Alvin C. Neat Post No. 5280, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a picnic Sunday, August 27, at Dans Mountain State Park, for members and social members.

A trophy board is being placed at the VFW home to display the trophies won by the post at the state convention.

Samuel A. Bean was presented a trophy for outstanding membership, attaining 100 per cent membership, while he was post commander last year.

For being the most progressive post in the state, a trophy was awarded to the post by Leroy Maddox, National District Chief of Staff.

Post members will visit Baker VA hospital Sunday. In conjunction with the McCoolle V.F.W. efforts, the Lonaconing V.F.W. men volunteered to visit the veterans hospital at least four times each year. Onas D. Hanekamp was appointed chairman of hospitalization by Commander Bernard D. Cordial.

All officers and committee chairman will meet Monday, August 7, at 8 p. m. at the post home with Cdr. Cordial to go over important VFW activities and projects.

Ladies Guild Honors Mrs. Ella Porter

BARTON — The Ladies Guild of the First Presbyterian Church honored Mrs. Ella Porter with a party on her 83rd birthday at her home a recent afternoon.

Mrs. David Moses, a daughter, served refreshments. The group spent the afternoon taking pictures and talking.

Attending were Mrs. E. Porter, Mrs. Jack Saville, Mrs. Benjamin Mowbray, Mrs. Frank Williams, Mrs. Dennis Lashbaugh, Mrs. Elsie Neilson, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lamberson, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cross, Mrs. Wellington Conn, Miss Bessie Keyes, Mrs. Jane Davis, of here, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Stuart and son, Mrs. Vera Stuart, Virginia.

Frostburg Clinic Checks 54 Children

FROSTBURG — Lois Jackson and Perina Grassi, public health nurses in the Frostburg area, said that 54 children were either examined or received immunization shots at the clinic held last week in the health rooms of the City Hall.

In the afternoon immunization clinic held for school children and adults, 257 Polio Immunization shots were given.

Dr. John B. Davis was the examining physician. The nurses were assisted in their work by the lay health workers of Frostburg.

Keyser Kiwanis Visits 4-H Camp

KEYSER—Members of the Keyser Kiwanis Club joined several hundred other persons last Wednesday in making "Visitors Night" at the Mineral County 4-H Camp a highlight of the week-long activities.

Following a meal served by the camp staff members, a special program on 4-H activities was presented by Charles Williams of Clarksburg, the camp director, and Ada Cox of Craigsville, one of the instructors. The speakers were introduced by County Agent James Miller after brief remarks by Joseph Wimer, program chairman.

Mineral County 4-H Camp Leaders

Muntzing Tells Lions About Juries

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Judge H. Gus Muntzing spoke to the Moorefield Lions Club last week and explained the qualifications of jurors and how they are picked.

The interest in jurors grew out of the excessive requirements for jurors during the past term of court when nearly 200 citizens were needed to secure jurors for the series of trials. Judge Muntzing said that jury service was one of the highest duties of citizenship. A question and answer session followed his talk.

C. B. Bishoff, president of the group, reported that the committee appointments for the coming year will be announced at the next meeting August 7.

Bishoff announced that Miss Dixie Lee Hawse will be the Lions Club princess at the Tri-County Fair held in Petersburg next month.

Bank Purchase Is Contemplated

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—Plans are underway for the purchase of one Clarksburg bank by another located here, it was announced Sunday. The purchase price was reported to be $960,000.

Under the plan, the Union National Bank would purchase all the assets of the Merchants National Bank. The sales agreement is subject to approval of two-thirds of the stockholders of Merchants National.

Merchants was originated in 1860 and is one of the state's oldest commercial banks. The announcement said the transactions was expected to be completed by Nov. 1, assuming stockholders and the Comptroller of the Currency approve.

SRC To Repave Frostburg Street

FROSTBURG — State Roads Commission workers will repave East Main Street this week.

The work schedule calls for employees to clean East Main Street today and begin the paving at the city limits Tuesday.

Local police requested that persons residing between Grant Street and the east city limits, who normally park their cars on the street during the day, to be sure to have them off the street until the paving is completed.

Gibson Will Speak To Rotary Club

FROSTBURG — Arthur B. Gibson, Cumberland, comptroller, will speak at today's meeting of the Frostburg Rotary Club at Big Savage Inn at 6 p. m., according to Harry C. Ort, program chairman.

Ort said Gibson has all figures on the Frostburg water operating procedures for a sewage disposal plant, and will draw a parallel with Cumberland.

Barton Personals

Mrs. Blanche Metz, Omaha, Neb., and Miss Bess Inskip, Cumberland, are visiting their sisters, Misses Hazel and Jennie Inskip.

Mrs. Winifred Flack and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Garvey and family, Massillon, Ohio visited Mrs. Ellen Willard, Moscow.

Dorsey Devlin returned to Williamsport after spending a week with his mother, Mrs. Hugh Devlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Francis, former residents, announce the birth of a son at Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grancy returned to Winchester after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and daughters returned home after vacationing at Ocean City.

Rural Carrier Presented Safe Driving Award

HYNDMAN — James D. Johnston, rural carrier serving Route 1 out of the Hyndman, Pa., Post Office, was recently presented with the National Safety Council's Safe Driver Award.

The 12-year award was presented by Harry T. Ritchey, Hyndman postmaster.

The award is recognized as the nation's highest honor for accident-free driving performance and is achieved only by those who have demonstrated that they are careful and skillful drivers.

The issuance of these awards is an example of the value of the Post Office Department's Vehicle Safety Program launched in 1954, Mr. Ritchey said.

Mr. Johnston's route is 56 miles long and about 30 miles of it is over dirt roads. He serves 367 boxes and about 521 families.

The route serves patrons in two states and three counties—Allegheny County, Md., and Bedford and Somerset Counties, Pennsylvania.

Epilepsy Drug May Be Used To Treat Wounds

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Studies by a West Virginia University scientist indicate a drug used to treat epilepsy may prove helpful in healing certain wounds.

Dr. Elmer E. Kelln, associate professor of oral pathology at WVU, said Sunday it appeared that the drug, dilantin, builds tissue wherever there is an irritation.

Using test animals, Kelln has demonstrated that administration of dilantin makes the scar tissue in a wound about 30 per cent stronger than otherwise could be expected.

Frostburg Personals

William Delaney and son, formerly of Eckhart and now residing in Detroit, are visiting relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison E. Martin, Waynesburg, Pa., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Walters, Eckhart.

Keyser VFW Post Marks Anniversary

Charter Members Honored By Units

KEYSER — A review of accomplishments of the past quarter century and a view of plans for the future featured the 25th anniversary celebration of Nancy Hanks Post 3518, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the post home Saturday night.

Guest speaker was Richard J. Cooper, Weston, commander of the Department of West Virginia, who recounted how the post was organized in July of 1936.

Mr. Cooper pointed out that in 1939, members decided to start a club of their own at 88 Armstrong Street and it proved to be a great step forward, for in 1945 it was moved into the former roller rink where it was located until 1943.

With the help of World War II veterans, the present property was bought and the beginning of the post home as it now stands was begun on November 16, 1943.

Present value of all property and equipment is about $80,000, he said.

"The world situation today" he said, "is such that anything could happen at almost any point on the globe." He pointed out how the VFW has long advocated a larger military force and requested that the Army, Navy, and Air Force be enlarged.

"Even in 1929... at the VFW Convention..." he said, "we condemned communism as a threat to the freedom loving world."

Commander Cooper was introduced by Past Department Commander Richard Homan, Sugar Grove. Other guests included Mrs. Cooper, James Fawcett, department senior vice-commander, and Mrs. Fawcett; Roland Lex, department essay chairman, and Mrs. Lex, department essay chairman for the auxiliary.

Carlton Brown, Loyalty Day chairman; Claude A. Hedges, of Post 896, Martinsburg, outstanding post commander for 1960-61; and Mrs. Frances Moore, president of the Ladies Auxiliary at Grafton.

Guests from the Keyser post were Leo C. Shuck, department junior vice-commander; Mrs. Faye Edwards, past department auxiliary president; Mrs. Lillian Kimble, Post 3518 auxiliary president; 4th District Commander Claude R. Boyce, and Post Commander Robert Whisner.

Whisner introduced new officers and charter members present. Mrs. Kimble also announced the names of new officers and introduced charter members of the auxiliary after which pins were awarded.

Charter members living are H. V. Adams, Harry Ashenfelter, Lee Allen, Dewey D. Breland, M. A. Dye, Hugh A. Edwards, Leroy Hamilton, J. W. Loutsch, Lester Ravenscroft, C. P. Renick, Dora W. Ralls, G. T. Stonebraker, Vernon W. Twigg.

Charter members of the auxiliary are Faye Edwards, who was presented the altar cloth first used by the organization; Estella Kennedy, Myrtle Rogers, and Lena Whetsell.

Deceased members are: Mary Burke, Willie Carskadon, Anna Frances Deegan, Martha Martin, Ella Montgomery, Madalen Murphy, Blanche Reel, Ellen Virts, Estella Virts.

A highlight was the presentation of a photograph, with seven of the charter members pictured, given by Mrs. Lena Whetsell in memory of her late husband, Harry M. Whetsell. The gift was accepted for the post by Junior Vice Commander Shuck.

Post Judge Advocate Charles W. Smith was toastmaster. Post Chaplain James P. Hood gave the invocation and Mrs. Mabel Blackburn, auxiliary chaplain, the benediction.

Social Is Planned By Fire Auxiliary

Ladies Night Is Observed By Lions Club

WESTERNPORT — Eleven perfect attendance pins were awarded by the Tri-Towns Lions Club at a recent "Ladies Night" dinner meeting in the Old Homestead Hotel at Burlington.

The presentations were made by J. William Beck, Boonsboro, a past international counselor of Lions and past president of the local club.

Norris Bruce has had a perfect attendance record since he joined the club 15 years ago. Lester Chaney has been a member 11 years.

Others receiving pins were Rex Chilcote, Lewis DeVore, Paul Fuller, Ernest Hitt, Ormal Hoover, Robert Keller, James McHenry, William McIntyre and Joseph Tresino.

James McHenry, president, presided and 40 members and guests attended the program. After the meeting, a brief session was held by the board of directors who discussed the proposed road back of Jake's Place leading to the Greene's Addition section of the town and Bruce High School.

The sight conservation committee discussed applications for eye glasses.

W. Va. Cattle Show Scheduled

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — A week of strenuous activity is scheduled for breeders of purebred dairy cattle of various breeds during the West Virginia Dairy Cattle Show to be held at the State 4-H Camp, Jackson's Mill, Aug. 15-18, according to Richard A. (Dick) Ackerman, assistant dairy scientist at West Virginia University.

The 20th annual event will feature meetings, picnics, planning sessions, and the renewal of old friendships in addition to the actual placing of the cattle.

George E. Taylor of the United States Rubber Company will judge all breeds. Oldtimers will remember the excellent acceptance of Taylor's decisions when he previously judged the show in 1950 and 1951. Ackerman commented here yesterday. (All events of the show will operate on Eastern Standard Time.)

Supermarket Bandit Found Asleep In Car

Co-Manager Is Fatally Wounded

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) — Police said Sunday a Marshall County man had confessed to the robbery of a Wheeling supermarket and fatally wounding one of its employees.

The man was identified as Robert C. Satterfield, about 30, of Benwood. He was arrested early Sunday while asleep in a car parked near Benwood.

Police said Satterfield had admitted robbing the A&P store at Elm Grove of some approximately $2,500, as well as firing the shots that killed Robert R. Nelson, 30, co-manager of the store.

Satterfield led officers to a spot on the banks of nearby Big Wheeling Creek where he had hidden the holdup weapon and some of the loot. The robber had dropped about $1,000 of the money as he fled into a wooded area near the scene.

Nelson was shot down as he and other store personnel gave chase to the fleeing bandit. The fugitive opened fire, causing his pursuers, with the exception of Nelson, to duck for cover. Nelson continued the chase and a few seconds later was fatally wounded.

A 50-man posse took up the search, but had to call off their efforts as nightfall arrived. Bloodhounds also were used, but they failed to flush the wanted man from the woods.

Financial Plight Of United Nations

Financial difficulties in the United Nations — a problem that is not new to it — are building up as a result of two expensive UN actions which have not received one penny of support from a vast majority of the membership.

The emergency force of 5,300 men which was sent to patrol the Israeli border in 1956 and is still there at a cost of close to $20 million annually, and the Congo operation with its far more expensive tab, were both approved by great majorities of the General Assembly.

But the record of payments of those countries which supported both resolutions is not good, and the Soviet bloc (which opposed both operations) has yet to contribute its first dime for either. For 1960, 45 member nations are delinquent on the Middle East assessment and 39 of these also owe their share of the costs for 1959. The United States, which pays the highest assessment of all, has contributed additional sums to save the project from bankruptcy.

In the Congo, the financial difficulties are even more severe. Costs of maintaining UN functions and armies in that chaotic African land are accumulating at the rate of several million dollars per month, and the list of UN members who are faithfully contributing their share of the expenses is pitifully small. The U.S., which contributed the lion's share at $32 million, also donated $15 million more to help compensate for the arrearages of the Soviet Union and others.

Within six months, United Nations budget difficulties could create a financial crisis in the world body, and it is a certainty they will sooner or later unless delinquent members assume responsibilities. The fact that a majority of the membership offers not even a token payment on its obligations has given rise to the argument that nothing short of a threatened shutdown of UN operations will jolt the overdue funds loose.

On The Verge

What the President's speech last Tuesday and the subsequent comment by members of Congress and the increase in the number of troops now called up means is that we are on the verge of war. We are not waiting to be attacked. We are not holding out for a Pearl Harbor.

President Kennedy has spoken his piece. The country has received his appeal for support enthusiastically. For no matter how one looks at the President's speech, it is a call to arms. It is a rejection of the Soviet ultimatum concerning Berlin. The only criticism of the President is a Republican suggestion that he cut peace-time waste and certainly the present situation gives him an excellent opportunity to get rid of some very expensive garbage which has accumulated over the years. He might implement the Hoover Reports which his father helped to prepare, and save about $4,000,000,000 a year, if not more.

One of the greatest advantages that Soviet Russia has over us is our wasteful profligacy, particularly in the military services. Military men throw away money, which is probably due to their training. If we recognize that the accumulated fat in our economy is gone, prudence will advise a sharp cut in federal non-defense expenditures. Otherwise, we shall be forced to print so much money that the purchasing power of the dollar will be further reduced.

In a free society, it is impossible to deprive the people of their earnings and savings by inordinate spending while the people are asked to practice thrift. The let-them-eat-cake theory of government finances does not work well in a country where elections are held at stated periods.

Khrushchev is wrong if he truly believes that President Kennedy delivered his speech last week to cover up unfavorable economic conditions. This is just not so. As a matter of fact, the President has been very tolerant of Soviet insults, more tolerant than the American people believed to be wise. Kennedy avoided permitting the Cuban affair from developing into a major political issue with perhaps some shooting to establish our ability to take care of ourselves. This has brought upon the President considerable criticism.

Khrushchev makes a mistake if he believes that because President Kennedy took a weak stand vis-a-vis Cuba, he is a weak man. The stand toward Cuba, whether correct or not, was calculated. The President did not choose to make his stand against Khrushchev in Cuba. He preferred to select his own spot and his own time. He chose Berlin.

And now, Khrushchev must either withdraw from an adamant position or there will be some kind of war in October. President Kennedy has made it clear that the United States will not withdraw from Berlin or change the status of the Western world in what amounts to East Germany.

Khrushchev must act. He cannot disregard the Kennedy speech or the American policy regarding Berlin without admitting his inability to meet force if necessary. On the other hand a war with the United States is not a matter of propaganda any longer. It means that no matter what happens much of the new strength that Soviet Russia has developed since 1933 will be smashed to rubble. Despite all the criticism of the U-2 program, Soviet Russia has been photographed as though it were selling picture post-cards of its most secret spots. If we need to we shall shoot up the place, as they will shoot us up.

From Khrushchev's standpoint, this is a very bad situation. His program of peaceful co-existence, for which he has fought so hard within the Soviet Universal State, is now wiped out. It was a program for the assertion of Soviet pre-eminence to which the West would agree in return for trade and for an avoidance of incident. In effect, President Kennedy said that we do not want to avoid incidents; that we shall take any risk, meet any situation, make any sacrifice but we shall not retreat. Neither Stalin nor Khrushchev has heard such words from an American President and the Ukrainian probably does not know how to take it, whether to believe Kennedy or to assume that he is faking.

It would be sound to believe President Kennedy this time, because the American people have had enough of Khrushchev and of Soviet tactics. The President's attitude is popular. It is the attitude of the American people.

'Wait — Don't Burn All The Bridges'

Britain Wakes Up To Communist Infiltration

By David Lawrence

IN EUROPE, July 30 — They are beginning to wake up in Britain to Communist infiltration—a trend that regrettably has not yet been paralleled in Continental countries such as France and Italy.

The British Labor Party's National Executive Committee — including Hugh Gaitskell, the party's leader—has decided to inquire into the possible expulsion of the Electrical Trades Union from the Labor Party because it has several Communist officers. The 170,000 members of the ETU pay annually about $170,000 in political contributions to the Labor Party.

The action of the executive committee follows the step also taken this week by the Trades Union Congress of Britain, which sent an ultimatum to the same electrical union demanding that it get rid of Communist officers at once or face suspension from the National Trades Union organization.

Here is an important union, with men in key jobs in the electricity mechanism of a whole country, and up to now nothing has been done to tackle in earnest the problem of its Communist officials. A letter published by the London "Daily Telegraph" says on this point:

"We are spending millions of pounds on defense, yet our security can be destroyed if such services as power, water, rail, roads can be disrupted by the plots of a small caucus of union leaders who in their blind devotion to Marxism would have no hesitation at the bidding of their Communist masters in destroying democracy in their own country."

Fortunately, the largest unions in Britain are not dominated by Communists, though they have made steady efforts at infiltration. The London "Telegraph," in an editorial, insists that apathy among the rank and file of the members and their failure to vote in union elections have been a basic reason why the Communists get control. It adds:

"Action sterner than has been expected has finally been taken by the Trades Union Congress against the Communist-controlled executives of the Electrical Trades Union . . . The challenge doubtless came all the more of a shock to the Communist leaders of the ETU in view of their past disposition to play upon the reluctance of the Trades Union Congress to intervene in union affairs.

"With only one abstention, the general council has voted in support of a move to break the grip of the Communists on the ETU's affairs. This means among other things that the union's executive (committee) was given ten days of grace in which to rescind their decisions which nullify the powers of the new anti-Communist General Secretary, Mr. Byrne."

But this is not the only significant step taken against Communist activities in Britain. The National Executive Committee of the British Labor Party — although clearing one of the party's members of Parliament who took part in a so-called "disarmament conference" at Oslo, Norway, sponsored by Communists — has just issued a warning against being taken in by so-called international conferences which ostensibly claim high motives but which are, in reality, Communist-inspired.

A report on the investigation made by a committee of officers of the British Labor Party has found that most of the members of the organizing committee of the Oslo Conference were also members of the "World Peace

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

WORDS, WORDS — The government has long been the victim of red tape — the necessity to follow inbuilt procedures that make simple things difficult and difficult things impossible. What is not always appreciated is that excessive use of long words, obscuring true meanings, contributes in a major way to the red tape process.

Take this recent occurrence: A plumber asked the Bureau of Standards whether it was safe to use hydrochloric acid to unclog drainage pipes. A scientist, replying to the letter, wrote: "The efficacy of hydrochloric acid is indisputable, but the corrosive residue is incompatible with metallic permanence."

Upon receiving this advice, the plumber replied thanking the Bureau for telling him use of the acid was all right. This made another fellow at the Bureau dash off another reply, saying, "Don't use hydrochloric acid. It eats hell out of the pipes."

PRESIDENT'S DAY — President Kennedy's work day, like those of his predecessors, is literally endless. There's always something to do, something to decide, something else to talk to.

A staff member decided to keep a log of a day's activities to see how he spent his time. In one 12-hour period, he found that 80 per cent of the time — about 10 hours — was devoted to foreign affairs.

Looking back over other days, he found that this was a little high to be called average, but that at least 60 per cent of each presidential working day had to do with foreign policy.

When one looks at the places where federal money is spent, and where governmental troubles lie, the figures are not surprising. However, they do come as something of a shock to most Washington officials, who are used to thinking at least as much about domestic economic, social and political developments as they do about foreign affairs.

Air Force Should Keep Closer Eye On So-Called 'Training Flights'

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — In view of President Kennedy's tough new military program, it might be well for the Air Force to keep a closer eye on some of its so-called "training" flights.

There's an interesting difference between the manner in which civilian Cabinet officers are charged for airplanes by the Air Force and the manner in which Air Force officers can go on hunting trips and junkets.

If a civilian Cabinet officer needs a plane to go on a hurry-up mission, his department is charged for it. In contrast, here is how some Air Force, National Guard, and reserve officers use government planes.

Ex-Governor Joe Foss of South Dakota is now head of the American Football League with headquarters in Dallas. Joe lives in Sioux Falls, S. D. So every month the ex-Governor of South Dakota, a National Guard officer, would fly down to Dallas, take care of his football duties, then fly back — all at the taxpayers' expense.

The trips got to be so regular that an Air Force inspector got curious and asked Joe the reason for his commuting routine. Ex-Governor Foss replied that it was "training." However, he agreed not to make the flights any more.

More Training Flights
Another case is that of William J. Crandall, a civilian pilot and reserve colonel in command of the 69th Troop Carrier Squadron, a reserve unit, equipped with

C-119 flying boxcars, at Hensley Field, Dallas, Tex.

Crandall has dolled up one of the C-119's largely for his own personal use, with special painting and soundproofing drapes, floor mats, a bed, table and chairs, and hot food warmer. This plane is used on so-called training flights.

When an old friend of Crandall's, Lt. Col. Joe Earl, came through Dallas, en route to Brazil on June 23, he wanted a lift to Charleston, S. C. Conveniently, on June 26, Crandall arranged a training flight. The plane carried Crandall, Lt. Col. Earl, and one other passenger, though eight hitchhikers were picked up for the return flight, June 27. It cost the taxpayers about $3,150.

When I asked Crandall how he justified this flight, he replied: "It was a training flight. There were certain problems to be considered."

In early March, Crandall flew to Chanute Field, Ill., taking with him on the plane an Air Force car for his own transportation during a ten-day maintenance school. The car was rolled into the plane without listing it on the cargo manifest. But when Crandall started back to Dallas, the operations officer at Chanute required him to list the car on the manifest. He refused to give the plane clearance until the car was so listed.

Last February, Crandall was attending a two-week training course at Bilozi, Miss. During the two-week course, he got a phone call from his wife wanting him to come home. Crandall called one of his subordinates, who arranged a training flight to bring him home for the weekend. At a cost of $300 per hour for operating a C-119, this set the taxpayers back around $3,600 to spend a weekend at home.

Then there was another interesting air junket two years earlier to Casper, Wyo. This was a "routine training" flight, ending up with a deer hunting expedition which brought about a dozen deer back to Hensley. They were kept in Air Force refrigerators until the hunters could make arrangements to pick them up. Crandall didn't make this flight, which cost the taxpayers another $3,900.

I asked Crandall: "Don't you organize a training mission just about whenever you want to take a friend someplace?"

"No, sir. If proficiency is not

Council," which is one of the organizations on the blacklist of the British Labor Party.

Members of the Labor Party were advised to check hereafter with the General Secretary before accepting such invitations, so that there would be an opportunity to determine whether the meetings are bona fide. In this instance, one of the initiators of the conference was Ilya Ehrenburg, a leading Soviet "peace" propagandist.

Those naive persons who are often asked to sign advertisements in the American press for various organizations — usually taking the Communist side of the argument in international policies—might profit by accepting the same kind of advice as that now given in Britain. Indeed, all the democracies are suffering from a lack of investigative machinery for the effective exposure of the intrigues of the Communists, who set up all sorts of international conferences to sway public opinion toward their point of view.

The tendency in Britain, as well as in the United States, has been to regard as a form of "witch-hunting" all efforts to publicize Communist tactics. While there have been some cases in the United States in which innocent and well-meaning persons have been wrongly accused, there have been many more instances in which guilty ones have gotten away with their intrigues because of handicaps placed upon legislative committees which would otherwise expose them.

Softness in dealing with Communists in Britain has cost the world plenty. Klaus Fuchs was "cleared" by the British, and his credentials were accepted by the American government. He then stole at a New Mexico laboratory the secrets of the atom bomb and gave them to Russia, which otherwise might have been delayed for many years in getting the nuclear weapons she has today. The whole history of the world might have been altered if Communist infiltration had been taken more seriously in Britain just a few years ago.

GOING CRAZY

L. D. writes: Is it true that a person who worries about losing his mind never does?

REPLY

Not necessarily, but usually the mentally incompetent person is unaware of his plight. Others think that everyone else is out of step.

LET HER ALONE

E. D. writes: We have a 79 year old woman in our household who is in good health for her age. But she never wants to go outside in the fresh air. Should we insist upon it?

REPLY

No. At her age she should be allowed to "just set" if she wants to.

FEARS GERMS

R. J. V. writes: A fellow worker in the shop where I'm employed washes his hands and arms up to the elbows a dozen times a day. He used to gargle several times a day with a disinfectant but now uses soapsuds to wipe out his mouth. He drinks his milk from the carton through a straw. Is there a name for this sort of behavior or affliction?

REPLY

This is an excellent description of a person with a germ phobia. The cause may be buried in a childhood incident and successful treatment is difficult.

to be gained," he said. "I doubt if we would take the flight."

Tax Huddle

The nation's Regional Tax Commissioners gathered in a quiet country inn at Asheville, N. C., last week to discuss how to make tax collecting a little less painful for the public.

The closed-door meeting was called by the Internal Revenue Service's unassuming new boss, Mortimer Caplin, who gained his experience for the job on the other side of the tax fence as a tax attorney and University of Virginia professor.

He made it clear to the assembled regional heads that he expects all Internal Revenue employees to deal with the public fairly and politely. Every citizen should be given the same courteous consideration, he stressed, as men of prominence or politics.

He also discussed plans for making the tax forms simpler and speeding up the massive paper work in order to make it easier for taxpayers to comply with the laws.

World Bright Spot

It was only a little over a year ago that the island of Cyprus was one of the trouble spot of the Western world. Two allies, Turkey and Greece, were at each other's throats over this small island largely inhabited by Greeks, only a few miles off the Turkish coast. But in a world where there's plenty of trouble, Cyprus today represents one bright spot.

Visiting Washington recently were the two judges of the Cyprus Constitutional Court, one a Greek, Michalakis A. Triantafyllides, the other a Turk, Mehmed Nedjati Munir. They were making a tour of the United States together with their wives. And despite the riots of the past, these two judges were good friends, traveled together, worked together, spoke sincerely of Greek-Turkish cooperation on the newly independent island.

They reported that, though the Cyprus legislature had failed to pass a new tax law, the government was still collecting taxes and the people paying them.

"The people are under no compulsion to pay taxes or even pay for postage stamps," said Judge Munir. "There is no law to make them do so. But they want our new government to succeed and so the taxes are being collected without a law."

Imagine Americans doing this if Congress failed to act on the tax law June 30!

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The oldest practicing psychiatrist in the United States is Richard H. Hoffman, 870 Park Avenue, New York. He studied in Vienna shortly after the turn of the century, when psychiatry was regarded as a dark art. He is now a tall straight man with sleek hair, a man who works every day as though there were a million of them left.

He has written a book called "The Conquest of Tension" and, as always, he used the professional assistance of A. W. Pezet. Tension, however, is not my theme for today. Dr. Hoffman is. In the back of the book, he has written a chapter about himself called "On Borrowed Time."

"I shall be seventy-three by the time this book is published," he writes. "What tensions beset my passing days and nights? Memory for recent events eludes me at the most embarrassing moments. I forget the names of people whom I have known fairly well. I forget the details of events, especially dates. I may overlook appointments when more important things trespass upon my attention."

"I am no longer as interested as I used to be in the distractions of life. I do not miss them . . . Remote memory is an undying faculty. The ability to recall, especially by association and in discussion, is a vibrant tenant of the mind. I can relive the past in well-remembered facts and pictures. I look forward to the future with a philosophic attitude. I do not cringe under the pangs of disappointment."

"I am not the Beau Brummel that I used to be. I obey all the laws of hygiene, but I am no longer worried if the clock in my socks fails to match my necktie. I wear old clothes, old shirts, old shoes, and smoke an old pipe."

"I still admire the things I bought in other years: sculpture, silver, paintings, vases, wood carvings. They have sentimental value. I try to see good in all people. If they fall from grace, I try to find a reason, and forgive them. I rarely get angry. Life has taught me faith, tolerance and insight."

"I live simply. A medical check-up finds me in fair shape, with no organic disease of any significance. I read myself to sleep every night and I do not take my concerns to bed with me."

"We all have sorrows and disappointments. I rarely think of mistakes I have made, of disloyalties I have sustained, or condemn myself for past iniquities. I still look to the future."

"As long as my mind keeps alert I am content. I have by no means resigned the function of love. Passions have abated, but the inner warmth of companionship and response still sets my heart aglow with kindly appreciation."

"How do I feel about death? I don't think about it much, yet I know it will come some day. I am not afraid of it. When the time comes, I hope to emulate the man in Thanatopsis and lie down to eternal sleep as though I anticipated pleasant dreams."

"Some people mock the calendar. I think of Toscanini as a man, of Eleanor Roosevelt as a woman. He was not old, nor is she. One of my oldest, and best friends, Charles Coburn, married at eighty-two."

"Almost all old patients are afflicted with some infirmity. They may wear glasses, use hearing aids, have false teeth, wear elastic stockings, or arch-supporting shoes. They read about disease and are concerned about clinical findings which have no real significance for them. The repeated and tension-provoking pleas for contributions to so-called disease foundations and the publication of statistical red flags fill the mind with apprehension."

"There is a neurosis from worry called cancerphobia. I would rather have cancer than live in fear of it. With cancer you die only once: living with the fear of it you die every day . . . You may not get the respect and reverence you demand. Instead of being considered a loving grandparent, you may be treated like an old fogey, behind the times, unknowing and unwise in the ways of the present."

"When a mother tries to dominate her family, she is devouring what she has created. No one will ever make the institution of motherhood unpopular, but I have seen many who feigned indisposition merely to compel the attention and care of children. Live to be a joy, and not a burden, to your children."

"The human body is but a marvelous creation of flesh and bone and tissue in which the human soul is mysteriously housed. In our best efforts we must always be aware that it is God who presides over life, and that it is His will that pinpoints our destinies."

Once, a long time ago, Dr. Hoffman found his faith flagging. A cleric said: "I don't think you believe in God, doctor." Hoffman nodded sadly. "I don't," he said. "But I sure hope He believes in me" . . .

Good Foot Hygiene Stressed During Summer

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

manent. This means good foot hygiene is important for all, especially during the summer months.

Wash the feet at least once a day and dry the toes thoroughly. Powder with talc to keep the feet dry. Use a bath mat or put a newspaper on the floor next to the shower or tub. Don't walk barefoot on any floor. Always wear your own shoes or slippers.

Lightweight shoes that fit and cotton hose are more comfortable for everyday wear when the weather is hot. If the feet perspire excessively, avoid nylon or wool hose as well as sneakers or rubber soled shoes.

Special precautions must be taken should itching, burning, or cracking occur between the toes. Use two towels after bathing: one for the feet and the other for the rest of the body. Wash the hands thoroughly after touching the toes.

Not every lesion on the foot or between the toes is ringworm. Many physicians have laboratory facilities to determine whether the rash is caused by fungi or represents irritation, eczema, or allergy. If ringworm is present, the plan of treatment may include griseofulvin, an antifungal tablet that reaches the infected tissues via the blood stream. Best results are obtained when the pill is used along with the application of a powder or salve that kills the surface organisms.

TOMORROW: A heart disease project.

UPSET BY APPLES

H. P. writes: Every time I eat an apple I get an upset stomach. Will other fruits do as much good?

REPLY

Yes. There always is bound to be someone who is bothered by a wholesome food that everyone else can eat with impunity. Remember the trouble that followed in the Garden of Eden when Eve ate an apple.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

An attendant in the Manhattan D.A.'s office recalls a wild night during Prohibition days when 25 of the town's top bootleggers were rounded up in a surprise raid. As they were being arraigned, the judge asked each one his occupation. The first 24 promptly replied, "Real estate broker." The twenty-fifth stanchly declared, "Your Honor, I'm a bootlegger."

Surprised, the judge permitted himself a laugh and inquired, "How's business?" The answer was, "It would be better if there weren't so darn many real estate brokers around."

During the Saturday night rush at a popular Long Island inn, one of the parking attendants was summoned to help check hats and coats in the jammed up cloak room. In his first quarter of an

Prices Defeat Yankees Twice;

Barber, Milt Pappas Hurl 4-0, 2-1 Wins

Dick Hall Saves Nightcap With A Clutch Relief Role

NEW YORK (AP) — Steve Barber and Milt Pappas, Baltimore's young pitching stars, cooled off Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris and the rest of the Yankees in hurling the Orioles to a doubleheader sweep, 4-0 and 2-1, Sunday.

Pappas, after blanking the Yanks for seven innings in the second game, was saved in the ninth by right-hander Dick Hall. Hall turned back the Yanks with the bases loaded and none out. He got an infuriated Cleve Boyer on a called third strike and pinch-hitter Hector Lopez on a double play.

With the last out, Yankee manager Ralph Houk rushed plate umpire Ed Hurley and jostled him in protest of the call against Boyer on a 3-2 pitch. Several Yankees had to grab their manager. Boyer had twice batted his bat in the dirt on the way back to the dugout.

The double defeat sliced the Yanks' lead to 1½ games over the second-place Detroit Tigers, who were beaten 4-0 by Minnesota. The third-place Orioles, in taking three of four from the New Yorkers, advanced with 8½ games of the Yanks.

A paid crowd of 58,180 at Yankee Stadium saw the left-handed Barber (12-8) blank the league leaders with seven hits in the opener. Hank Foiles drove in three runs with two homers in the first game. His first came off starter-loser Bill Stafford (9-5) in the fifth inning. Foiles belted his second—and fifth of the season—with Jim Busby on first against Jim Coleman in the ninth.

Dick Williams' double off Bud Daley, third Yankee pitcher, scored Jackie Brandt from first with the winning run in the ninth inning of the second game.

Pappas, a right-hander, had whitewashed the Yanks for seven innings with a three-hitter. He was leading 1-0 on the Orioles' second inning run, made on three singles and Brooks Robinson's forceout.

But the Yankees broke the spell in the eighth on two walks and a single, loading the bases, and Mantle's ground-out for a run.

McKenzie Scores At Beaver Creek

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—A 22-year-old Duke University student won top honors at the annual Beaver Creek Country Club Invitational Golf Tournament here this weekend.

Ted McKenzie, the Duke student who was competing under Waynesboro, Pa., Country Club colors, scored a 71-70-141 in the two-day medalist event. His 36-hole score was a 3 under par for the Beaver Creek course.

Another Waynesboro, Pa., golfer, Eldon Joiner, fired a 74-74, 148 to take the second place award in the gross score division.

Earl Kusomoto of the Ft. DuPont Country Club near Washington, D. C., stroked to a 149 in the net score class to take first place. His handicap of 10 strokes gave him a net score of 139.

Minnesota Sweeps Series From Detroit Tigers, 4-0

Twins Homers Give Kralick 10th Win; Two Bengals Injured

DETROIT (AP)—The Minnesota Twins completed a sweep of a three-game series Sunday against the Detroit Tigers, blanking the slipping second-place Detroiters 4-0 behind Jack Kralick's shutout pitching.

Kralick scattered eight hits in posting his 10th victory in 16 decisions.

For the third straight game, the Twins won with home run power. Bob Allison combined with a former Tiger, Ted Lepcio, to turn the tables Sunday.

Allison hit his 23rd home run leading off the second inning. Hal Naragon singled and Lepcio followed with his sixth home run.

The Twins rattled out five hits in the inning and knocked out Frank Lary, who was seeking his 15th victory and got his 6th defeat.

The crowd of 16,121 pushed the Tigers over the one million mark in home attendance for the 16th time in 17 seasons. The Tigers have drawn 1,010,408 in 55 home games.

They are the first club in the American League to reach the million mark.

Kralick struck out seven, getting Norm Cash, the league's leading hitter, three straight times. Al Kaline stretched his hitting streak to 22 games with a sixth inning single. His string matches the longest Detroit hitting streak since Pete Fox connected in 29 consecutive games in 1935.

The already crippled Tigers, who have third baseman Steve Boros and catcher Dick Brown on the disabled list and reliever Terry Fox sidelined with a sore elbow, suffered two more casualties Sunday. Two rookies, shortstop Dick McAuliffe and outfielder Bubba Morton, were injured in a first inning collision.

Morton popped a bunt to the mound but did not see Kralick catch the ball. Morton barreled down the first base line and crashed into McAuliffe, who tried unsuccessfully to beat Kralick's throw back to first. Morton suffered a sprained left ankle and McAuliffe a slight nose fracture.

McKenzie Scores At Beaver Creek

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—A 22-year-old Duke University student won top honors at the annual Beaver Creek Country Club Invitational Golf Tournament here this weekend.

Ted McKenzie, the Duke student who was competing under Waynesboro, Pa., Country Club colors, scored a 71-70-141 in the two-day medalist event. His 36-hole score was a 3 under par for the Beaver Creek course.

Another Waynesboro, Pa., golfer, Eldon Joiner, fired a 74-74, 148 to take the second place award in the gross score division.

Earl Kusomoto of the Ft. DuPont Country Club near Washington, D. C., stroked to a 149 in the net score class to take first place. His handicap of 10 strokes gave him a net score of 139.

Hyndman Wins 10th In Row, Frostburg Takes 2nd Place

Deremer Bags 10-0 Decision Over Farmers

Frostburg Winner, 6-2; Barrelville, Mt. Savage Score

PEN-MAR LEAGUE

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Hyndman	10	0	1.000
Frostburg	7	2	.778
Barrelville	6	3	.667
Salisbury	5	4	.556
Lonaconing	4	5	.444
Mt. Savage	3	6	.333
Flintstone	2	7	.222

Hyndman's Merchants scored their tenth consecutive victory at the expense of the Flintstone Farmers yesterday at Centerville, Pa., by the score of 10-0, and upped their lead to 2½ games in the Pen-Mar Baseball League.

Manager John Waltman's team posted its third straight win over the Farmers and made its season record 17-6 with five games remaining on the schedule.

Glenn Deremer went the route for the Pennsylvanians, limited Flintstone to two hits — singles by Bill Hook and McPhail — fanned one and walked two and notched his sixth win of the campaign against a single loss.

Trio Issues Ten Walks

Lefty Bill Hook, who started on the mound for Flintstone, was charged with the loss. Kenny Lough came on in the sixth inning and was followed by Norris during a seven-run bombardment. Flintstone hurlers issued a total of ten bases on balls, eight which were given up by Hook.

Lou Hie rapped a triple and drew three bases on balls, John Waltman batted a double and single and Pete Deremer had a pair of base hits for Hyndman.

Frostburg's Merchants took over the runner-up berth with a 13-6 record by defeating Lonaconing by the score of 6-2.

Peace Posts Sixth Win

Ralph Peace turned back the Carlings with seven hits, whiffed six, walked five and recorded his sixth victory in eight decisions. Richard Cooter, who was supplanted by Jerry Lancaster in the fourth inning, was tagged with the loss.

Frostburg collected 11 hits, including two triples by Allan Eisel, a double and single by Don Nave, Gary Keedy's triple and two-base wallop by Dick Pitko and Mike Kasnick. Everett Spiker blasted a triple and single and "Ike" Love smacked two singles to pace the "Coney batsmen."

The victory was Frostburg's 12th in the last 15 games, including a 7-inning scoreless tie with Barrelville.

Barrelville's Old Exports defeated the Salisbury Cardinals by the score of 4-2 at Barrelville and tied Moorefield for third place at 13-8 after the West Virginians dropped a 5-4 decision to Mt. Savage at the latter place. It was Moorefield's second loss in as many days.

Parsons Whiffs Eight

Ed Parsons went all the way for Barrelville, scattered six hits and struck out eight to record his fourth win against a single loss. Robert "Lefty" Keister, Salisbury's starting pitcher, took the loss, his fourth against as many triumphs.

Donnie Lewis accounted for three of Barrelville's nine blows with a double and two singles to his credit while Bob Cessna and Bill Clauson garnered two safeties each. Junie Perry obtained two singles and John Keister obtained a double and single for the Cardinals.

The Old Exports broke a 1-1 deadlock in the fifth by coupling hits by Cessna and Clauson with a throwing error for two runs.

Sore Arm Stops Markley

Jesse Markley had a one-hitter going for four innings but developed a sore arm and was forced to withdraw in favor of Lefty Wayne Johnson, who was credited with Mt. Savage's win over Moorefield. Johnson is now 2-4 for the campaign.

Mt. Savage collected nine hits, including a double and single each by Ted Femi and Steve Faulkner, two singles by Ken Johnson and a two-bagger by Rich Lybarger. Gus Smith, Bob Keller and Vance shared six of Moorefield's eight safeties.

A running catch by Barr, Moorefield centerfielder, of a drive from the bat of Ken Johnson, was the fielding highlight.

In Saturday games, Hyndman edged Barrelville, 5-4. Frostburg topped Mt. Savage, 3-0, and Lonaconing downed Moorefield, 3-0. Rain washed out the Salisbury at Flintstone contest.

Mervin Slagle pitched the first no-hit, no-run contest of the season in the Town and Country Softball League yesterday as White Rock defeated Loch Lynn, 4-0, in the opener of a twin bill at White Rock.

White Rock also captured the second game, 4-3, in 11 innings with Slagle again the victor in a relief role as he chalked up his 13th consecutive pitching triumph without a loss.

The two victories enabled White Rock to remain deadlocked in first place with Mt. Storm which defeated the cellar-dwelling National Guard twice, 15-5 and 13-1 at Oakland.

Junior Paugh was the loser for Loch Lynn in both contests, bowing to Slagle's no-hit effort in the opener despite only allowing three hits himself. Paugh now has an 8-5 mark for the season.

Bob Foster chucked up his 12th and 13th mound wins against two losses for Mt. Storm as the National Guard team bowed for the 20th and 21st times this year. Idleman hit a home run in the opener for Mt. Storm, a grand slam job which climaxed a six-run fourth inning for the winners. Metheny homered for the Guardians.

McHenry dropped from a tie with Mt. Storm and White Rock for first place in the circuit when it split a double bill with Oakland, losing the nightcap, 11-1, to Irving Wolf's four-hit twirling, after rallying for three runs in the seventh to cop the opener, 6-5.

George Stewart picked up his 12th pitching victory for McHenry in the first game, while Dick Reckner was the loser in the second. Wolf won his sixth game in the opener and dropped his eighth decision for Oakland in the nightcap.

In a doubleheader at Accident, Swallow Falls copped the first game, 14-7, but dropped the second, 7-4, to Hanlin. Dallas Neel was the pitcher of record in both games for Swallow Falls as he won his fourth game in the opener, then bowed for the eighth time in the second game. Frazee was the loser for Accident in the first tilt. The results:

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — The teaming of George Hamilton and Yvette Mimieux will not end with "Light in the Piazza." Arthur Freed, just back from Europe, says that he has plans to bring them together in a straight romantic comedy, "First Love."

The rumors about Yvette and George almost broke up his romance with Susan Kohner. George and Yvette marry in "Light in the Piazza," and the photographs of this scene are, shall we say, very effective.

It's been said that Yvette has a secret husband stashed away, but she has always denied this. That cute little Eddie Hodges, who crept into all of our hearts in "Hole in the Head," which was one of Frank Sinatra's best, and before Frankie became the leader of the clan, will be seen in motion pictures again in "Advise and Consent."

Producer Otto Preminger tells me that he signed Eddie to play Henry Fonda's son, and he is very happy to get him. Before "Hole in the Head," Eddie was a famous Broadway star, and was much applauded in "Music Men."

About a year ago agent Henry Willson, famed for the names he picks out for his clients—Rock (Hudson), Tab (Hunter), Rip (Torn), etc., found a young New York stage actor named Raymond Cramton whom he took to Warner Chief Bill Orr. Bill signed him to a Warner contract which, of course, called for a change of name, and Willson came up with Chad Everett.

Since then life has been quite rosy for Chad. He carries the romance with Diane McBain in "Claudelle Inglish" on the set—and off, I hear. And now Warner's not only have picked up his deal with an increase in salary but he will be starred in the new TV series, "Tumbleweed," this fall.

The persuasive Danny Thomas invited me to go with him and Rosemary (Mrs. T.) to the Sheldon Leonard's cocktail party and dinner, to meet with a group who are bringing the Dick Van Dyke show to TV Oct. 4. Danny's interest is that his company with Sheldon is producing the series.

Van Dyke had the lead in "Bye Bye Birdie" on the Broadway stage for over a year. He is moving his family here and expects his fourth child Oct. 3, the day before the series is beamed.

Glad to see Rose Marie (Baby Rose Marie), an old friend, who's in the series, Mary Tyler Moore, who showed only a pair of good-looking legs as "Sam" in "Richard Diamond" on TV will show a face to march in Danny's series. Morey Amsterdam, whom I have known for a long time, tells me he is doing not only an acting part, but a writing job as well. Then there's Richard Deacon also in the cast.

In my write-up of the Eddie Fisher premiere at the Coconut Grove I didn't mention Frank Gorshin, who is on the same bill. I think his impressions are unique and excellent, and I didn't think they called for all that ridicule the "Clan" gave them, and then did their own—which were not especially good.

The only thing I didn't like about Gorshin's act was his imitation of a group of actors who are now dead, supposedly gathered together in heaven.

When Fabian told me that he would even give up his appearance Labor Day at Steel Pier in Atlantic City if Jerry Wald would give him a role in "Adventures of a Young Man," I couldn't help thinking how honest this boy is, and what humility he has.

He was so disappointed over "Summer World" being called off, but he took it all in stride and hurried home to visit his parents and to do some work on the new home which they'll occupy come September.

P.S.: Please Jerry, if possible give Fabian this chance. He was so good in "North to Alaska."

Snapshots of Hollywood collect at Random:

If Jim Hill has his way his divorce from Rita Hayworth will not have any mud-slinging. Rita is sending her 12-year-old daughter Yasmin back to Switzer land to school in the fall. Jim says she is a wonderful child.

Anita Loos' "Happy Birthday" opened in West Berlin to an enthusiastic audience. If the war threats subside Anita may visit Germany.

The Otto Premingers, here for a few days, had a small dinner party at Romanoff's. Dick Powell was one of the guests and that led to reports that he would be in "Advise and Consent." "I'd love to have him," said Otto, "but he's too busy to accept."

The Joseph Kennedys are entertaining Janet Leigh, Jeanne (Mrs. Dean Martin), and Pat Lawford in Europe.

Brigitte Bardot should pay Life Magazine for the cover on the current issue. She has never been so beautiful, and Life doesn't usually flatter people.

Sylvia Kaye tells me Danny will be home the 23rd or 24th. He's endeared himself to many people in his concern and interest in the homeless children of the world. When I remarked again that Danny wears evening clothes better than any man I know, Sylvia said, "He stands over his tailor until his clothes are just right—and then comes home and gets into sweaters!"

Lee Anderson is having such a whale of a time in Mexico, first at Merle Oberon's house, then at the Hilton in Mexico City, and later at the Las Brisas Hilton in Acapulco, that she's been gone for a month. She'll be back in about a week. She is in Acapulco in time for Diane Meyer's marriage to Buck Rogers.

One of the prettiest homes in Beverly Hills is that of Sheldon Leonard in Treadles Estates. Met Sheldon's pretty daughter Andy (yes, that's her name), who is marrying Alex Urbach, senior law student at USC, Aug. 27. The wedding will be held in the Rodeo Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel. Police Find Red Printing Shop

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Police finally have found the printing shop where the Communist party's outlawed newspaper was published. It was the same shop that printed the national police monthly magazine.

Set Off Explosion

BOLZANO, Italy (UPI) —German-speaking Alto Adige (South Tyrol) terrorists have set off their first bomb explosion in two weeks.

A high-tension pylon near the village of Villa Ottone was blasted by a time-bomb and fell to the ground Saturday night.

It was the first explosion since Italian security forces cracked down on autonomy-seeking terrorists two weeks ago in this disputed border province.

In Germany and some other countries, people eat stewed frogs, legs and all.

GAINS SUPPORT ON U.N. MOVE—Nigerian Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa holds a bust of Abraham Lincoln presented him by President Kennedy at the end of their series of talks at the White House. Sir Abubakar gained "strong support" for more African representation at the United Nations.

Hijacked Mail Returned By Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department said Friday that mail aboard the U.S. plane hijacked to Havana last Monday was returned by Cuba intact late Tuesday.

Everything was in order when the mail was returned to this country, the department said.

There are more than 100 islands in the Shetlands and only about a quarter of these are inhabited.

Club Manager

Heard The Message

HARLOW, England (UPI)—The manager of Harlow's Bingo Club resigned Saturday after he heard a Methodist minister tell his customers bingo is "the biggest sin of today."

Bill Cotton's boss, the promoter and owner of the bingo establishment, invited Minister Cyril Blount to speak his mind to 500 customers at a session three nights ago.

Afterwards, Blount, 31, said, "I don't suppose I've convinced anyone, really."

But he had. Yesterday Cotton said "I thought what the minister said was perfectly logical. So I left the job."

Plans Satellites

WASHINGTON — The Federal Space Agency said it will launch two and perhaps four communications satellites next year for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. AT&T will build the satellites at its own expense and will reimburse the government for launching and tracking costs.

Red Bulgaria Raises Salaries

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Communist Bulgaria has decreed 10 per cent salary boosts for laborers, doctors, teachers and administrative employees, Radio Sofia said Friday. It also announced consumer prices of electricity, electrical appliances and some other consumer goods will be cut 6 to 28 per cent as of next Tuesday.

Recent pictures of the sun have disclosed swirling gas storms 200 to 600 miles across.

The color you choose to cover up your legs has a tremendous effect on the rest of your costume.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Figured Out For You

Do you know that your hosiery can make your legs appear slimmer or curvier, whichever you wish?

If your legs are large, don't wear the lightest stocking you can find. The only thing for a gossamer stocking chisel: the size of the legs. For this reason, they have become the delight of all women.

Hazy shades keep the legs beautifully inconspicuous. If you want to minimize thickness in the ankle area, wear a stocking with a slender, pointed heel. A stocking punctuated with a dark and not too delicate seam also trims the leg.

Seamless stockings fill out the overslim leg.

If you have other figure problems, learn to use color to advantage for your whole costume.

Dark colors will seem to make you look smaller and slimmer. Light and bright colors will have the effect of making you look larger. So, to satisfy your great yen for color, choose it in a hat, or, for a satin fill-in at your neck.

Study fashions featured in style shows and complete costumes featured in newspapers. Until you are sure of your own tastes select one that appeals to you and copy it to the last accessory. Before too long, as you study and experiment... add or eliminate, you'll learn what looks best on you and make fewer and fewer expensive mistakes.

FIGURED FOR YOU, gives expert detailed instructions and illustrates how to select foundation garments that provide comfort, control and beautiful figure. Send 10c in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper for FIGURED FOR YOU.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I noticed in the classified section of the newspaper that a certain party had a stove for sale. My husband and I were interested so we phoned first and then drove over.

When the man came to the door I said, "I am the lady who phoned about the stove." The first minute we were alone my husband said to me, "You should not have said 'lady,' you should have said 'woman.'"

I'm a little miffed that my husband doesn't think I should call myself a lady. He says it's self-praise. I say it is nothing of the kind. Will you settle it?

—NO LADY (?)
DEAR NO (?): The words are now used interchangeably. Now, tell me something important—like did you buy the stove?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem is right in my back yard. It's a swimming pool. Don't get the idea we are rich. We are people of modest means who decided it was easier to invest in a pool than to drag our children to the public pool every day and go get them.

The trouble is the neighbor kids come in droves, uninvited, and sometimes they don't even bother to bring their own suits. They expect us to provide towels, refreshments and telephone service. Some days we've had as many as twenty kids. I feel as if I am running a public bath-house.

The younger visitors ask to borrow our children's masks, frog-feet and snorkel tubes. If they are refused they go home and say our kids are selfish. The pool has caused so much trouble I'm ready to fill it with cement. Is there another solution?

—STUCK
DEAR STUCK: Yes. Call the parents and tell them of your problem. Tell them too, that their kids are welcome only if they have been invited because nobody is free to "drop in" anymore. Ask your children to invite the friends they want (clearing through you first, so you don't have 20 on the same day). Each guest should be reminded to bring his suit and a towel.

You may make a few enemies but don't let it bother you. Reasonable people will be sympathetic and cooperative. Unreasonable people are impossible no matter what you try to do to please them.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a close friend who has a lot of nerve. She has a habit of saying to me, whenever I wear something she likes, "I'd love to have that when you are through with it." And then she keeps at me until I promise to give it to her.

I hate to give worn out gifts so I find myself handing things over long before I am through with them. Then after I have given her the hat or the dress or the purse, I get mad at myself for being such a patsy. This woman can afford to buy anything she wants. She has more money than I have... she's just cheap. Any suggestions? —OUTSMARTED

DEAR OUT-SMARTED: From now on, when she hands you the old line simply say, "I'll never be through with THIS. I intend to wear it until it falls apart." Then stick to your guns.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Refused To Move

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI)—Pedestrian Alexander Smith was fined $28 Friday for sitting on the hood of a woman's car and refusing to budge.

Smith told the judge he climbed on the hood after the woman driver nearly ran him over. When Smith refused to budge from his perch, the court was told, the woman carefully drove him to the nearest police station where he was charged.

Labor Day Likely

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Friday Labor Day, Sept. 4, is his best guess for the adjournment of Congress.

The Montana Democrat gave this estimate to newsmen as he put the Senate on notice that it will hold a special session Saturday. This is necessary because "our work is piling up," Mansfield told the Senate.

Goren On Bridge

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
AKQ 10 3 2 ♥ K 5 6 ♠ K 9 2 ♣ AQ 10
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Four spades. There is no occasion for further bidding. When spades are raised your hand becomes worth 16 points (14 in high cards, one for the doubleton and one for the fifth trump). Partner's redouble shows that he has a minimum of ten. The combined assets are therefore 26 or better, enough to attempt a game.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
AKQJ 10 7 4 ♥ AQJ 10 6 4 3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Seven spades, and you should be able to spread the hand after the lead. North could hardly have combined a two no trump rebid with a jump preference on an lesser holding than both major suits and either ace, king, queen of clubs, or ace, king of clubs, ace of diamonds.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
AK 10 6 4 2 ♥ 7 ♦ K 8 5 2 ♠ 5 4 3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What is your response?

A—Three spades. Prospects for an adverse heart game are not at all remote and an immediate jump raise is best calculated to indicate to opponents. Partner should not expect more than this, for with a good hand you would have chosen to redouble.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
AJ 10 5 4 3 ♥ 8 7 6 2 ♦ 10 7 4 ♠ J
Your partner opens with one no trump. What is your response?

A—Pass. You are virtually broke and despite the singleton no thought should be given to a rescue bid unless partner should get doubled.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
AQ 4 ♥ 8 2 ♦ AJ 6 4 ♠ KQJ 8 3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Six clubs. Partner has shown that he has, at most, a single diamond, for he has described five hearts, four spades and at least three clubs. In view of partner's strong bidding you may expect that he will have no more than one loser in the major suits.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
AKJ 10 6 ♥ K 8 2 ♦ Q 8 5 ♠ J 7 5
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—One try for game is indicated on this hand and the suggested call is two no trump. Your values are well distributed and if your partner has a maximum raise there may be a chance for a game.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
AK 6 2 ♥ AK 9 7 4 3 ♦ 5 ♠ QJ 8
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Two no trump. This is preferable to another round of hearts. Partner has shown a rather good hand and the key to the best final contract may be your club stopper.

Man Is Killed By Falling Tree

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — A freak accident this weekend took the life of Cecil F. Stephens, 47, of nearby Walker.

Stephens died at a local hospital a few hours after he was struck on the head by a section of a dead tree that was being cut down.

He was working beneath a bank where the dead tree was being cut. Fellow workmen shouted to him that the tree was falling, but Stephens apparently failed to hear them, until it was too late.

Asks Probe Of U.S. Nazi

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Kenneth P. Keating, R-N.Y., disclosed Sunday that he had asked the Justice Department to investigate the American Nazi Party and determine whether it should be on the attorney general's list of subversive organizations.

In a filmed television program, Keating said he had made the request in a letter last week to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

He said he had written previously to ask what the department was doing to combat the American Nazi Party and had received a "disappointing reply" saying merely that the organization was under study.

Keating said he believed the department wanted to "avoid giving the group any unnecessary attention for fear that publicity and notoriety may be just what these hate-mongers are seeking."

French Police Halt Polish Spy Ring

PARIS (UPI) — Security police have broken up a Polish spy ring stealing French navy secrets for 10 years, justice ministry sources said Sunday.

The sources said the permanent military tribunal has sentenced 10 persons to jail terms ranging from three-year suspended sentences for complicity to life terms for treason.

The case began in 1959 with the arrest of several persons suspected of being Polish special service agents. Several were of foreign origin living in France.

Barbour County Youth Is Drowned

BELINGTON, W. Va. (UPI) — A Barbour County youth drowned Saturday in a pond located near here.

The victim was identified as Donald D. Hutzler, 13, of near Philippi. The youngster, who could not swim, entered the water to get a log he apparently planned to play with.

The water was over the boy's head and he drowned before help could arrive.

Rebels Attack In Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—New Moslem rebel terror attacks on French farms increased fears Sunday that the seven-year-old rebellion will flare again because of the collapse of the Lugin peace talks.

The Moslem attacks came as rightwing extremists set off 11 plastic bombs in Algiers and one in the government administration building in the inland town of Philippeville. There were no injuries reported.

A few minutes after midnight, a Moslem threw a grenade into a carnival at Bone. The blast killed an 8-year-old Moslem girl and injured 70 persons. Police arrested a Moslem suspect.

Another grenade was thrown into a French military police outpost at Bone, seriously wounding a Moslem auxiliary soldier attached to the French army.

Factory Sales Show Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Factory sales rose nearly 1 per cent in June and new orders held steady, the Commerce Department reported Sunday.

The stability in new orders appeared favorable in light of a preliminary forecast two weeks ago of a 1 per cent drop in new orders to makers of durable goods.

Economists pay close attention to new orders because they are an advance indicator of future production and employment.

The tidal shoreline of the state of Florida is 3,751 statute miles.

Acting in my capacity as Auditor to the Board of Education of Allegany County, Maryland, I have audited, by tests and checks deemed adequate, and examined the Receipts and Disbursements of the General Account, including Capital Disbursements and Building Account, also Fort Hill Stadium and Beall High Plant Operations Accounts, and Maintenance Account. All Cash Balances on hand have been verified with depository statements.

I have also reviewed and examined reports of all subsidiary operations via: Cafeteria Account, Veterans' Training Account and Extra Curricular Account. In my opinion the attached statements accurately set forth the Receipts and Disbursements of the several accounts and fairly present the results of operations of the Board of Education of Allegany County, Maryland, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1961.

Former Local Youth Drowns In Lake Erie

Joseph Reitmeier's Body Recovered

A 20-year-old former Cumberland youth drowned early Friday when he fell into Lake Erie while fishing.

The body of Joseph William Reitmeier, 1387 East 45th Street, Cleveland, Ohio, was recovered about 9:30 a. m. yesterday by a fisherman.

It was reported the youth, a non-swimmer, was fishing from some rocks near the Municipal Light Plant when he fell into the water.

The Reitmeier youth was a son of Mrs. Margaret F. (Flynn) Reitmeier, and the family formerly resided on Fayette Street here before moving to Cleveland.

Surviving, besides his mother, is a brother, John Reitmeier, at home in Cleveland.

His body will be returned to the George Funeral Home.

Dentist Opens Practice Here For Children

Dr. James J. Laubham, a native of McKeesport, Pa., has started the practice of dentistry in Cumberland in association with Dr. William T. Fridinger and Dr. George L. Fogtman.

Dr. Laubham plans to limit his practice to dentistry for children.

A 1949 graduate of McKeesport High School, Dr. Laubham studied two years at Pennsylvania State University and four years at the University of Pittsburgh, where he received his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree in 1955.

Dr. Laubham served in the Army from 1955 until March 1961. The first year in the Army he interned at Valley Forge (Pa.) Army Hospital. He later spent three-and-one-half years in Germany, where he specialized in working on the teeth of Army dependent children.

Married and the father of three children, he resides at 105 Sunset Drive in the new Sunset View development.

Wheels, Baby Contests Set At Mapleside

Activities scheduled at Mapleside Playground this week include a decorated wheels on parade contest, a picnic and a baby picture contest, according to Mary Jane Howell, director.

Today the Pre-Teen Club will hold a swimming party and wiener roast at the Celanese Pool. Members will meet at the playground for transportation to the pool at 1:30 p.m. Each person will bring his own food for the wiener roast.

Work will begin Tuesday afternoon on the miniature float which will be Mapleside's representation at the Cumberland Fair. Children are asked to bring any small article, preferably out-of-doors doll house furniture, which would fit the theme, "Vacation Time."

The wheels on parade contest will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. Prizes will be awarded for the best decorated bicycles, scooters, wagons, skates and other toys on wheels.

Thursday's program will include the picnic at noon for all playground members. Free punch will be served. At 3:30 a meeting will be held for all children who are interested in participating in a stunt which will be presented at the City Stunt Night, August 10 at Constitution Park. At that time a group from each of the city's playgrounds will present a stunt and winners will be selected.

The baby picture contest is scheduled for Friday evening at 7 p.m. Pictures of members taken before the age of two should be given to the playground leader before Friday to be mounted for the contest. The winners of the contest will be the children who can correctly identify the most pictures.

Former Mayor Commander Of W. Va. Legion

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Former Wheeling Mayor Jack R. Adams Sunday was elected new commander of the West Virginia Department of the American Legion, succeeding Robert E. Lester of St. Albans.

Elections of new officers highlighted the final day activities at the legion's 43rd annual convention here. Adams, opposed in the commander's race by Karl Rinehart, an employee of the Weirton Steel Co., won out in the voting, 209-79.

Other new officers included vice president John R. Spence, Sistersville; Chester M. Matney, Welch; James J. Murphy, Lookout, and William T. Mickey, Charleston. Junior R. Potts, of Buckhannon, was named sergeant of arms.

Richard E. Davis of Morgantown, C. E. Pauley of Charleston, Robert Sparks of St. Albans and L. O. Bickle of Fairmont were re-elected as judge advocate, finance officer, historian and national executive committee member, respectively. E. D. Hardman, Charleston, was named as Bickle's alternate.

'Y' Notes Increase In Attendance

A total of 80,445 persons or an average of 439 persons a day used the facilities at Central YMCA in the first half of 1961, according to the "Y" executive committee.

The committee said the high attendance figures are due to a new program emphasis, increased dormitory occupancy and additional use of the meeting rooms by community groups.

Local Resident Sees Satellite

James R. Smith, 702 Oldtown Road, last night reported seeing the Echo satellite pass over the city.

The satellite was launched last summer and for the past several days has been rising in the west and setting in the east.

Tawes Primary Ticket May Be Compromise

Could Include Brewster, Lee

BALTIMORE (AP) — The primary election slate headed by Gov. Tawes next May possibly will represent a "compromise ticket."

The primary is nine months away, but leaders in the Tawes Administration in recent weeks have been busy lining up candidates and eliminating possible opposition.

The biggest victory for Tawes forces in the campaign's early stages is the inducement of Rep. Daniel Brewster to drop any desires he might have had for the gubernatorial nomination and to accept the U.S. senator's spot on the governor's ticket.

With that accomplished, those forces now are turning to another possible source of competition, Del. Blair Lee III, D-Montgomery.

Interested In Senate

Lee has indicated his interest in the Senate seat now held by Republican John Marshall Butler. But the popular Montgomery County legislator reportedly has been offered Tawes' support for congressman from the new 8th district.

The new congressional district is made up of Prince Georges and Howard counties, but the first man to fill that seat will be elected at large because of a pending referendum vote on the 1961 General Assembly's redistricting act.

"It's too early to say," Lee said during the weekend. "I've got to talk to a lot of people first."

A congressman's job in Washington reportedly was not the only incentive offered Lee, a frequent and outspoken critic of the Tawes Administration.

Some Democratic sources say Tawes is so eager to have Lee on his ticket that the governor has promised to support him for the other U.S. Senate post in 1964. First, however, Lee must become congressman.

Should Tawes' reported efforts to tempt Lee prove successful, another congressional aspirant, House Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson, D-Prince Georges, likely will be left out in the cold.

Seek To Avoid Split

Wilkinson, a veteran of some 20 years in the House, indicated during the 1961 session of the Legislature he would seek the Democratic nomination for congressman from the new district.

Despite the governor's attempts to avoid a possible split in the party, at least two other possible candidates — one formally announced and the other expected — are seeking supporters for the gubernatorial nomination.

David Hume, former state Democratic Party treasurer, has filed for the office. His most recent efforts reportedly have been to salvage the support of young Democrats who earlier had sought Brewster as their candidate for governor on a "New Era" ticket.

George P. Mahoney, Baltimore County businessman and unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination in 1950 and 1954, is expected to be the third candidate among those seeking the governorship.

Welded Rail For The B&O

These photographs show the principal operations in the rail welding program which began here last week in the Cumberland repair yards. The top view shows a welded rail being pushed onto the first gondola of the 26-car train which is being used to take the 1,440-foot-long welded rails to their destination. At left below, Robert Snyder, head grinder for the Matissa Railroad Corporation, Chicago, is adjusting the device which will smooth the top of the welded rail. Sides of the rail are being ground smooth by another machine in the background. Jack Wagner, a welder for the firm, is seen at right below cleaning scale from sections of rail he has just welded. Rails welded here will be moved by one of two trains such as seen here to points where they are to be laid throughout the B & O system. The work is being done for the B & O in a shop area off Offutt Street here.

Five Complete 3 Red Cross Swim Courses

Five youngsters completed three stages of American Red Cross swimming instruction in classes taught by Mrs. Serena Winer recently at Shrine Country Club pool.

Mrs. Winer, a qualified Red Cross instructor, said one of the children plans to continue swimming instruction by taking a junior lifesaving and water safety course at Constitution Park this week.

Louise Beall, Sylvia Beall, Kristi Knight and Gregg Viands, completed advanced beginner, intermediate and swimmer classes. Donna Walters completed beginner, advanced beginner and intermediate classes.

Pam Walters completed beginner and advanced beginner classes; Ray Beall completed advanced beginner and intermediate, and Jeff McNeil completed intermediate and swimmer classes.

Dr. Prather Advises Salk Shots

Maryland citizens should get their Salk polio shots immediately if they have not already done so, Dr. Perry F. Prather, commissioner of the State Department of Health, said yesterday.

Dr. Prather pointed out that although it is still early in the season, six polio cases have been reported in Maryland, all of them in Frederick County.

Five of the six persons were unvaccinated, Dr. Prather said. He also said initial reports show that two of the cases were caused by Type III poliovirus, which caused most of Maryland's 147 paralytic cases last year.

The 1960 outbreaks occurred in Western Maryland and the greater Baltimore area, but missed Frederick County.

No verified polio cases have been reported this year in Allegany County, but one young woman is under observation and treatment at Memorial Hospital as a suspected polio case. She is Mrs. Elaine Godsey, 1008 Kent Avenue, who was hospitalized a week ago today with mild paralysis. She had received no Salk shots.

Dr. Prather said he hoped everyone would get the recommended total of four Salk shots. "Those who have not done so are urged to start at once. There is no cause for complacency."

Aging Survey Is Started In This County

Members of the Lay Health Council of Allegany County expect this week to begin making a survey on the problems of the aging.

The survey will be made by the volunteer health workers as they interview persons who have volunteered to participate in the study.

Rev. Robert Current, chairman of the Allegany County Commission on Problems of the Aging, which will sponsor the study here, said all answers will be confidential.

No names or addresses will be written on the survey forms.

It will be necessary, however, to label the forms with the community in which the person lives, so the commission may learn of the needs of each part of the county.

The committee to date has the names of about half of the 841 persons it hopes to include in the study.

A similar survey was completed recently in Wicomico County.

One section of the survey will deal with the possible need of those over 65 for assistance in the home.

Another deals with the details of the person's housing, and includes the question of nursing homes and preference of their location.

The financial situation of the county's senior citizens is also included, along with the condition of their health and their ability to meet medical and hospital costs.

Three Injured In Collision

Three young persons were injured last night in a two-car collision near Everett, Pa.

Two were admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital and another was treated and released.

Pennsylvania State Police at Everett investigated the accident, but did not have any details about the crash.

False Alarm Call At Sacred Heart

Three fire trucks responded to a false alarm last night at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Firemen at Central Fire Company said a woman called at 8:45 p. m. and said there was a fire at the hospital. Central responded with a pumper and the hook and ladder, and East Side also answered the alarm.

Butler Sees GOP Victory In '62 Vote

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Sen. John Marshall Butler, R-Md., said Sunday "fiscal integrity" would make the Republican Party victorious in the 1962 general election.

"If the nation is to tighten its belt in the years ahead to meet challenges of the Soviet thrust, then it is only right that the administration go on a bureaucratic diet and eliminate from its menu expendable, non-defense programs and projects," said the state's senior senator.

Butler made the remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at a "Griscom Day" Republican dinner, honoring Mayor Joseph H. Griscom Sr. Butler said the Federal Housing Bill is an example of "careless" use of funds.

"The Democratic majority added over one and a half billion dollars to a bill that was already close to being a boondoggle and a pork barrel that would amaze Tammany Hall," Butler said of the successful housing measure.

"History," he said, "is filled with stories of rich powerful nations which were destroyed through over-extending themselves through over-indulgence, through scorn and contempt for budgets. 'That must not happen here,' said Butler, who is expected to seek a third straight term next year.

He told the rally "there can be no denying that the American dollar is the cornerstone of the Free World. 'Without a sound American currency," he added, "the West would collapse like a punctured balloon."

Planning Work To Be Reviewed By State Unit

Conference Set Here Wednesday

Cumberland's planning program may receive approval of the Maryland Department of Planning at a joint meeting planned here Wednesday afternoon.

Attending the meeting at 1:30 p. m. in City Hall will be representatives of the State Planning Department, the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, the Mayor and Council, James R. Woglum representing Morris Knowles Incorporated, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery.

Plans for the meeting were made with Richard A. Gucker, planning engineer for the State Planning Department, which will supervise the preparation of a comprehensive plan for the City of Cumberland.

The Mayor and Council last Monday authorized Mayor J. Edwin Keech to enter into a two-year contract for professional services of the Easton, Pa., planning firm.

The action was taken on the recommendation of the Planning Commission, which reached its decision the week before after several months of intensive work.

Mr. Gucker recently advised Mayor Keech that after the state unit discussed the program with the city's consultant and the Planning Commission, the city's application will be forwarded to the HIFA regional office in Philadelphia.

He pointed out that it usually takes at least a month to secure federal approval.

Will Expedite
If there is that much delay, it will doom the city's objective to get the planning program rolling by September 1.

Mr. Gucker has promised to expedite the application but has warned that work started before federal approval is not eligible for federal aid, which will be 75 per cent of total costs.

The Morris Knowles firm is at present under contract with the City of Keyser to prepare a comprehensive planning and zoning program.

The Mayor and Council plans to provide $15,000 in the 1961-1962 budget for planning work.

The existence of satisfactory plans is one of the requirements for federal funds for housing or urban renewal projects.

Employers' Quarterly Tax Returns Due

Employers are reminded that several type of tax returns are due today, according to Irvin Machiz, district director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District.

Returns are due for the three months ending June 30, 1961 from the following: employers who file quarterly federal tax return card form 941 for reporting withholding taxes on employees and Schedule 941-A for reporting Social Security taxes. These forms must be filed together to insure proper credit for the second quarter 1961. Employers who have domestic servants such as cooks, janitors, maids, chauffeurs and other workers who perform services of a household nature, are subject to Social Security taxes (Form 942) if $50 was paid in wages in the second quarter of 1961.

Returns from persons liable for quarterly excise tax returns (Form 720) are also due today. Excise taxes include taxes on facilities and services, manufacturing excise taxes and taxes on products and commodities. Where the withholding, Social Security and excise taxes exceed $100 a month, the depositary receipt system must be used.

Employers are requested to use the pre-addressed forms received in the mail. It helps to expedite the handling of the returns and insures proper credit to the account.
